

DETENTION OFFICER

JOB DESCRIPTION

Classification Responsibilities: A Detention Officer performs responsible work in operating a twenty-four hour/day City detention facility in accordance with established procedures and requirements set forth in federal/state laws, City ordinances, and department orders. Duties include: taking custody of inmates from arresting officers; booking inmates into the City jail by completing required documentation and forms; fingerprinting inmates; verifying the identification of persons in custody and checking for outstanding warrants; restraining and monitoring inmates; transporting inmates to and from the county jail and other law enforcement agencies; escorting inmates to and from court and processing necessary paperwork; handling video arraignment court sessions for inmates; coordinating and communicating with other jail facilities regarding inmate transfer and movement; performing field drug testing on drugs found on the individual; processing evidence discovered on inmate; applying electronic monitoring devices to inmates per court orders and bonding out inmates according to established guidelines. A Detention Officer is also responsible for the security and welfare of inmates, which involves providing meals and dispensing medicine, as well as maintaining the jail. This class is responsible for performing related duties as required.

Distinguishing Features: A Detention Officer has successfully completed the structured training program required of a Detention Officer Trainee. The work requires the application of specific knowledge and skills relative to the booking, detention, and release of adult inmates. Work is performed under the supervision of a Detention Sergeant; however, incumbents often work without direct supervision, and are expected to exercise independent initiative and judgment in maintaining a secure and orderly detention facility. An employee in this class is subject to verbal and physical abuse from inmates and is required to physically search inmates and use sufficient legal force to restrain violent/combative/mentally ill inmates. A Detention Officer works rotating shifts, including holidays and weekends. This class is FLSA nonexempt.

Transport Assignment: Incumbents will be required to carry a firearm.
