

NEIGHBORHOOD SERVICES COORDINATOR

JOB DESCRIPTION

Classification Responsibilities: A Neighborhood Services Coordinator performs professional community engagement work in the planning, development, organization, and implementation of programs and services to assist in proactively responding to the issues of neighborhoods and individual residents. Neighborhood Services Coordinators work closely with the City Council Office and are assigned to work in one or more City Council District (by assignment). Job responsibilities focus on four major areas: 1) administration, including report-writing and public presentations; contract and resources management; coordination of services with other City divisions; grant research and grant application writing; and form, survey, and questionnaire development; 2) internal and external liaison activities involving substantial interaction with elected officials, City management and other City employees, interaction with outside governmental agencies, organizations and school districts and representatives of community organizations, school districts, businesses, and service provider agencies; 3) establishing and facilitating planning and problem-solving processes and activities leading to satisfactory resolution of challenges and concerns in neighborhoods and City Council Districts (example: neighborhood meetings, neighborhood improvement programs, neighborhood events); responds to requests from City Council for information and analysis of neighborhood issues, and creates programs to address those issues as requested; and 4) handling electronic and print media activities, press releases, and advertising; planning, developing, and implementing a variety of information for programs or materials to facilitate communication to residents, employees, and the general public; effectively educating a diverse public about program area issues in a positive manner; developing public education programs and materials for a variety of audiences; assisting with the development and production of division information using web technology; developing social media and webpage content to keep it up-to-date, interesting, and meeting City specifications and design standards. Incumbents deal frequently with citizen situations that are, or may become, volatile, and with matters which are sensitive and highly visible. Work requires considerable exercise of initiative and independent judgment within established policy guidelines. May have lead responsibilities for a project or team (by assignment). Responsibilities may also include supervision of clerical or paraprofessional classes. This class performs related duties as required.

Distinguishing Features: This class is allowed considerable independence of action. A significant element of work involves public contact of a specialized nature, which requires patience, tact, and persuasion in dealing with diverse residents, businesspersons, and organizations who are affected by City programs or projects or who have neighborhood-related concerns. Employees in this class may be required to work evenings, weekends and holidays for special events. This class is supervised by the Diversity & Community Engagement Administrator who reviews work through meetings, conferences, observation, status and effectiveness, as well as overall results achieved. This class is FLSA exempt-administrative.
