

ASSISTANT CITY ATTORNEY III

JOB DESCRIPTION

Classification Responsibilities: An Assistant City Attorney III performs professional civil municipal legal work involving a wide-variety of legal issues, cases, and projects. Depending on assignment, an Assistant City Attorney III provides advanced legal services to the City Council and management; plans, investigates, and tries major cases and appeals; performs difficult professional and administrative legal work including complex development agreements, environmental law, utilities law, major tort litigation, and commercial real estate transactions; prepares and tries cases involving jury trials, condemnation cases, telecommunications cases, and appeals board hearings; and attends meetings of departmental officials, employees, and advisory boards to advise on legal questions. Employees in this class also provide legal advice to clients on major departmental issues and projects to assist the decision makers with the legal implications of their decisions and to assist the departments in meeting their goals. Assistant City Attorney IIIs perform work with considerable latitude, independent judgment, and discretion. Although some assignments may involve specialization or a primary focus such as: land-use planning, environmental law, public utilities, right-of-way acquisitions, intergovernmental agreements, commercial real estate transactions, and drafting leases, ordinances, civil pleadings and contracts, employees are expected to assist in a variety of areas as supervision deems necessary. This class is also responsible for performing related duties as required.

Administrative Municipal Law Assignment: Attorneys assigned to Administrative Municipal Law must have knowledge about general municipal law bearing on City legal problems and must have the ability to draft ordinances, resolutions, and agreements; provide City departments and officials with legal advice; and attend meetings and provide legal advice to advisory boards. Attorneys in this assignment draft complex legal documents such as professional services contracts, development agreements, commercial real estate agreements, Requests for Proposals (RFPs), or telecommunications agreements. Some assignments may involve specialization or a primary focus such as: land-use and planning, public utilities, Title 34, telecommunications, human resources, economic development, or real estate transactional work.

Civil Litigation Defense Assignment: Attorneys assigned to Civil Litigation Defense must have the ability to handle all aspects of a civil defense litigation practice which include discovery, depositions, motion practice, and trials. This assignment requires an in-depth understanding of federal and state law defenses for federal and state claims; in-depth knowledge about federal and state rules of civil procedures; and the ability to conduct jury trials and appeals in federal and state court. This assignment requires excellent writing and legal research skills.

Water/Utilities Assignment: Responsibilities for the Water/Utilities assignment include handling legal issues involving environmental and natural resource topics such as water rights; negotiating water leases; liability for environmental contamination; and all legal issues related to water, sewer, gas, and electric services.

Distinguishing Features: This classification has been designated as a non-classified, non-merit system, at-will position. This class is distinguished from the Assistant City Attorney II class by its responsibility for senior level legal decision-making; responsibility for more complex work, high profile/high exposure cases; specialization in a specific area of the law and the ability to independently perform these duties at the highest technical level of expertise; and working as mentor or Lead Attorney over less experienced Attorneys. Employees may progress to this class by noncompetitive promotion upon meeting the specific criteria-based promotion requirements of experience and performance. General direction is received from a Deputy City Attorney, who reviews work through reports and an evaluation of overall results achieved. This class is FLSA exempt-professional.
