2. Hear presentations, discuss, and provide direction on the following topics impacting the City of Mesa and SRPMIC:

2-a. Art, Culture, and Preserving History in Mesa, including information about Arizona Museum of Natural History exhibits, operations, and future planning; Sce:dagí Mu:val Va'aki; City archaeology and repository.

Arizona Museum of Natural History (AZMNH) Director Simon Tipene Adlam discussed the vision and mission of the museum, a living space of ideas in collaboration with the community. He emphasized that the AZMNH is an institution that has impacted generations in Mesa. He compared the progress and challenges the AZMNH has experienced through the years and the strategic plan for the future. He expressed appreciation and gratitude for the support from the SRPMIC for helping build a place that inspires and benefits Mesa's communities and future generations. (See Pages 5 through 12 of Attachment 1)

SRPMIC President Martin Harvier thanked Mr. Adlam for his work with culture resources.

In response to multiple questions from SRPMIC Vice President Ricardo Leondard, Mr. Adlam described the efforts regarding the reparation of ancestors, which will take decades to complete and will be carried out through partnerships.

Mayor Freeman stated that the City remains committed to continued, open, culturally respectful dialogue concerning actions previously taken in Mesa's district.

Mayor Freeman thanked staff for the presentation.

2-b. Public Safety and Well-being Resources in Mesa, including information about the Real Time Crime Center and collaborative programs and initiatives that support community safety, education, resources, and awareness.

Fire Chief Mary Cameli introduced Police Chief Dan Butler, Assistant Chief Tim Walker, Commander Jason Redwing, and Police Community Partnership Administrator Tara Hall.

Chief Cameli thanked the SRPMIC Council for their generous support and funding, which has enabled the City to provide school immunizations and flu shots. She said she appreciates the strong partnership in working together on training, the academy, videography, and the cadet program. She acknowledged SRPMIC Council's presence and collaboration during difficult times, such as the recent firefighter service. (See Pages 14 and 15 of Attachment 1)

President Harvier expressed gratitude to the Mesa Fire Department (MFD) for its support following the loss of a tribal firefighter several years ago, as well as for its assistance in the aftermath of a line-of-duty firefighter fatality.

SRPMIC Councilmember Butler recognized the exceptional work of MFD Academy, noting its significant impact in developing more community firefighters.

Responding to a question from Vice Mayor Somers, Chief Cameli mentioned that fire truck purchases are experiencing nationwide delays, with wait times of up to three years.

In response to a question from Mayor Freeman, Chief Cameli answered that the City of Mesa (COM) provides fleet support for several other agencies, including Queen Creek, Gilbert, Fountain Hills, and occasionally Superior.

Police Chief Butler expressed gratitude for the SRPMIC Council for its grant support that helps fund operations to keep Mesa and the region safe. (See Page 15 of Attachment 1)

Assistant Chief Walker discussed the Real Time Crime Center (RTCC), noting that grant funding has supported enhanced data and information sharing with neighboring communities to combat crime and maximize operational effectiveness. He highlighted the RTCC goals and operations, staffing needs, and the City's prevention efforts. He added that there are 11 full-time operators with plans to add two more. (See Pages 16, 18, and 19 of Attachment 1)

Assistant Chief Walker reviewed the RTCC statistics from January through October 2025, emphasizing its role in supporting arrests. He played a video demonstrating a crime in progress and how the RTCC operations and high-quality camera footage assists officers in quickly identifying and apprehending suspects. (See Pages 19, 20 and 23 of Attachment 1)

In response to a question from SRPMIC Vice President Leonard, Assistant Chief Walker explained that RTCC cameras can monitor multiple activities simultaneously. He noted that trained staff manage several screens at once to address different situations in real time and most intersections are equipped with cameras that monitor traffic and can zoom in on specific areas.

In response to a question from Vice Mayor Somers, Assistant Chief Walker described how the live feeds can be transmitted directly to the RTCC and the usefulness of drones. He indicated that the MFD may also utilize the drone, which can respond to most downtown incidents and provide live situational awareness to first responders.

Commander Redwing provided an overview of the Mindful Badge Wellness Program, which is funded through a grant and offers significant benefits to employees. He advised that the program focuses on mindfulness techniques and tools to promote balance and well-being. He announced a new program, the Resilience Immersion Training, and highlighted the services covered in the program. (See Pages 24 and 25 of Attachment 1)

Commander Redwing reviewed the grant details and discussed participant feedback. He stressed the importance of mindfulness for police and fire personnel responding to individuals in crisis, explaining that the program helps officers regulate their emotions, maintain composure, and remain balanced so they can provide effective assistance. He also discussed the broader positive impact on the community. (See Pages 26 and 27 of Attachment 1)

In response to multiple questions from Councilmember Spilsbury, Commander Redwing stated that the wellness program is promoted through a monthly email newsletter and operates on a first-come, first-served basis. He noted that supervisors can help guide employees to appropriate support programs when needs are identified. He added that classes fill quickly and that ongoing efforts focus on improving outreach and messaging to increase participation.

Ms. Hall described the origins of the community programs and explained how grant funding supported their launch and expansion. She noted that a 2019 grant helped grow an initial pilot community engagement academy into a one-day community academy model, making participation more accessible. She summarized the growth of various community programs and explained how partnerships with businesses and property managers are leveraged. She identified the impact the programs have had on the community. (See Pages 29 through 32 of Attachment 1)

Ms. Hall shared participant feedback, noting that attendees express strong appreciation for community partnerships and often help promote the academies, leading to increased participation. She emphasized the pride participants feel in public safety and how a single grant-supported program expanded into multiple initiatives over the years as community priorities were recognized and supported. (See Pages 33 and 34 of Attachment 1)

In response to a question from SRPMIC Councilmember Antone, Ms. Hall replied that all of Mesa's police officers are engaged in community outreach, and this specific division has been dedicated since 2016.

In response to a question from SRPMIC Councilmember Antone, Doran Dalton, SRPMIC Assistant Community Manager, noted that the SRPMIC Police Department has partnered with the Fire Department to implement a new wellness program. He stated that his community is focusing on mental health for both Emergency Service Departments and Dispatch.

Responding to a question posed by SRPMIC Councilmember Butler, Mr. Dalton confirmed that the Well Path Program is designed to strengthen support services for officers who put themselves in harm's way.

Responding to multiple questions from SRPMIC Vice President Leonard, Commander Redwing explained how the City emphasizes and encourages officer wellness and described ways the department and personnel support one another by covering shifts when someone needs time off.

Mayor Freeman thanked staff for the presentation.

2-c. Early Learning, Career Pathways, and Higher Education Attainment in Mesa, including information about the Mesa Family Resource Center, Mesa College Promise, small business and entrepreneurship programs, and other workforce development resources.

Education and Workforce Office Administrator Sarah Tolar introduced Economic Development Director Jaye O'Donnell and emphasized the importance of partnering with the Economic Development Office to grow Mesa's economy. She highlighted education-focused programs, particularly early literacy initiatives such as Mesa K-Ready, which began with SRPMIC funding and supports families in preparing children for academic success. (See Pages 35 and 36 of Attachment 1)

Ms. Tolar noted Mesa's strong K-12 system and described the Mesa College Promise Program, established in 2022, to remove financial barriers to post-high school education for Mesa residents, with expanded enrollment and eligibility to now include adult learners. She discussed securing long-term funding for the program through a partnership with the Maricopa Community College District and its foundation using billboard revenue to support the program and establishing an endowment to benefit Native American students. (See Pages 37 and 38 of Attachment 1)

Ms. Tolar outlined the Workforce Center partnership between the City of Mesa, A New Leaf, and Maricopa County, which provides flexible workforce development services. (See Page 39 of Attachment 1)

Ms. O'Donnell explained that the Mesa Business Builder (MBB) Program was launched during COVID to support the creation of high-value, high-wage jobs and promote economic prosperity for Mesa residents. She identified the four primary service areas of the MBB Program. (See Pages 40 through 42 of Attachment 1)

Ms. O'Donnell described the MBB entrepreneurship and small business services, and highlighted the services offered to business owners. She encouraged everyone to visit www.mesabusinessbuilder.com for available resources. (See Pages 43 and 44 of Attachment 1)

Ms. O'Donnell discussed the MBB specialty spaces, including LaunchPoint and the Studios, which provide flexible, state-of-the-art facilities and resources to support technology companies, entrepreneurs, and small businesses as they grow and engage with the community. (See Page 45 of Attachment 1)

Mayor Freeman thanked staff for the presentation.

3. Brief discussion on future joint City Council and SRPMIC Council collaborations and priorities.

Mayor Freeman welcomed anyone in the community to visit the programming spaces to learn about the opportunities available.

4. Mayor and SRPMIC Community President Closing Remarks.

President Harvier thanked the COM for hosting the Council meeting and emphasized the long-standing relationship between the two communities. He reflected on the historical ties dating back to early settlement, highlighted Mesa's support of SRPMIC students and families, particularly in education and offering access to resources. He expressed appreciation for City leadership, staff presentations, and the continued commitment to open dialogue and collaboration.

Mayor Freeman reaffirmed the strong partnership that has existed for decades. He reiterated Mesa's commitment to continued growth and collaboration, noting the City's unique balance as a large city with a small-town feel, and supported ongoing coordination between leadership and communities, including meeting twice a year.

5. Adjournment.

Without objection, the City Council/Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community meeting adjourned at 1:20 p.m.
